

Day 18
6/25/13

Video #2
Our century's greatest injustice

What do we do with the resources that we have?

young girl in a poor village of China, reached the age of 13, parents said they were going to pull her out of school to work in the rice fields because $13 per day for school was too much. she showed a lot of potential, was the best student in her grade people started donating money to her... she was able to finish school found a job and then helped other girls find jobs in her class

many women dont go to school in China because traditional values are Law!

If we just help a little to get started, then after many women give back and give others the same opportunities.

Sex trafficking is devastating and degrading to women women become an object that can be bought The value of womanhood is going down
If the women becomes pregnant and its a girl, most often it is killed. Boys sometimes live.

There are more males in the world than females Women get different health care than men-often are more malnourished and die sooner

if women cannot have children then her value has decreased in traditional society Often the baren is because of the worse health care

Unlock the intelligence, greatness of women

Many girls resort to prostitution to be able to pay for education or to make money after they had to drop out since they can't get any other job since they aren't educated

Speaker gave up her own education money to help other girls to get education

We, in any country, should help girls to be able to get a education girl wanted a college education so badly that she was raped from the man who got her into school believe in a chance- this happens all over
